THE JUNE UPDATE 2018

Lovely greetings from Uganda, I am very honored to be able give an update since my return home after a very fruitful 7 week trip to the USA. As you know, my return was faced with a challenge of a heart condition that my daughter NISSI was diagnosed with causing panic to all of us.

The Lord blessed the trip with close to 100 children sponsored and funds to finish the teachers house plus many new connections made. Amidst these successes the enemy was looking for a way to steal our joy. It was hard for my wife but the prayers offered by many loving friends around the world made her strong. While still in the US, we made contact with two hospitals in Nairobi Kenya and as soon as I arrived home we hurried to Karen Hospital for an appointment on June 11th 2018 for catheterization to determine the problem.

As news about NISSI was shared, many people prayed and blessed us with financial help to meet medical bills, transportation, hotel etc. which made us feel that we are not alone.

We don't have words to express our many thanks to each of you for showing us real love in a time of great need. Our prayers are always with you. The journey is, however, not over as the findings from Karen hospital revealed that NISSI has: LARGE PRIMUM (SINGLE ATRIUM), SMALL INLET VSD, and PULMONARY HYPERTENSION. We were referred to Apollo hospitals in India. After we obtain visas, Nissi will receive heart surgery there.

For God's grace to pour out!!

More prayers are needed that all may go well in India.

We at Reach USA want to thank all those that have sent gifts so far. If you haven't, please consider it. REACH has set up a fund to help pay for Nissi's medical care and travel expenses.

Please Note: Money given will be personal gifts to Fred and not considered an IRS charitable contribution. Funds in excess of the amount needed will be contributed to Omega School's general fund. Fred has blessed so many children's lives in Uganda. Please join us in prayer that his own daughter, Nissi be healed.

Will and Vick

God makes connections even when you do not expect it. While in Nairobi (the day Nissi had a procedure) the hospital allowed only one person to stay with Nissi and I had to look for a nearby hotel to stay for a night and thanks be to God, I got one in walking distance. In the morning, on June 12th, I met Will and Vick at breakfast and they asked me whether I was visiting as well.

In times of trouble, God sends friends new and old to encourage us.

To cut the story short, I told them about NISSI and they prayed for her. They, then, told me that they are visiting Africa for the first time and they would be going to Uganda as well, and in Jinja. They promised to visit me and expressed a love to visit Omega school as Will wanted to do a math lesson with our primary seven class. I was happy to see them on Sunday, June 24th looking for me and on June 26th, they visited Omega School. Will was able to teach math then came back again on the 28th and taught another class. They come from England.
