Explaining Sponsorship

Dan, sponsored 2004, now a successful businessman

Dan Ndalu

Pastor Fred would like to introduce to you, Dan Ndalu. Dan was among the children to be sponsored on his first trip to America. Dan's life has been forever blessed because Americans extended a helping hand to him through sponsorship. Here is his thank you note:

Dear Friends,

Warm greetings from your son, Dan Ndalu, a beneficiary of Rescue African Children, Uganda. I am moved to thank my sponsors and wellwishers for the great support given to me. I wish to update you all that through our director, Fred Tumwebaze, I have been able to succeed in many ways. I am a happily married man, working with a top radio consortium as a Commercial Manager, after graduating from Makerere Business School. I have been able to reach this far because of your prayers and love in kind. It is my prayer that God bless you all abundantly.

Yours in Christ,
Dan Ndalu

Halted progress of new school building. The hope is to take children from Primary to Secondary School.

Gifts received by November 15th allow for a timely transfer of funds to Uganda.

On October 28, 2021, the president of Uganda made a national address about the opening of schools and the economy. His request was that 12 million people be vaccinated by December 2021 so that he can open the country fully. He however stressed that even if the goal of vaccinating 12 million is not reached by December, he will fully open the schools and the economy in January 2022. With vaccination, the focus will be on priority groups including health workers, teachers, and workers in bars and markets places. At Omega school we are looking forward to the day the school will be fully opened and see our children back. We would like however to be able to work constructions and improvements on structures before opening in January 2022. With Secondary school, contractions are to resume fully in December 2021. We however need more funding as the project is big and requires many $1000's more. By January we shall give a full update after we resume with the building work. Thank you for all the love shown during this time of hardships. Blessings to you . . . Fred Tumwebaze
